Excerpt: . . . 10 Creating an Effective Stalking Protocol Stalking Behaviors Stalking is not, by definition, a one-time criminal act but a series of repeat acts of victimization, a pattern of behavior, and or a course of conduct. It may involve a mix of patently criminal acts and behavior that, in another context, would be considered benign and non-Stalking creates a psychological criminal. A stalker can commit any type of crime - from vandalism, to prison that deprives its victims kidnapping, to homicide. Such crimes might include physically or sexually assaulting the victim, killing pets owned by the victim, of basic liberty of movement violating a protection order, or making overt threats to harm the and security in their homes. We victim, for example. But, stalking laws also criminalize ostensibly must address these crimes innocent acts that would normally be considered benign and effectively by working together noncriminal - such as sending letters, delivering unwanted gifts, or to protect stalking...
