It should be explained that the unusually high death-rate for the year 1872, was caused by the epidemic of small-pox, which was so fatal in the first quarter of that year, and by the severity of the weather of the summer months. 6 The deaths in 1875, arranged according to months and quarters of the year, are as follows: The order of mortality by quarters was, third, first, second, and fourth. This corresponds with the usual order. In 1872, owing to epidemic influence, the greatest mortality occurred in the first quarter; then, in the third, second, and fourth quarters, in the order named. This is an exception to the usual order. Of the deaths in 1875, 25.72 per cent, took place in the first quarter; 25.52 per cent., in the second quarter; 27.21 per cent., in the third quarter; and 21.55 per...
